Juror: Catherine Walker Bailey

Walker is a Professor in the School of Art and Design at East Carolina University where she has taught since 1991. She attended the Central School of Art and Design in London, England before coming to East Carolina University to complete her BFA (1986) and MFA (1991). She teaches drawing, figure drawing and linoleum cut printmaking. Her work has been exhibited nationally and internationally. She is particularly interested in creating work in a series, that develops visually and conceptually over a period of time; months to years.

Working in multiple layers, images are produced, reproduced, and added to, hiding and revealing ghost impressions of previous states. The use of text is sometimes incorporated and hidden (but findable) to combine with the imagery of domestic interiors and personal objects such as toys, letters, tools, plants & other personally significant objects. About memory and human communication in all its quirkiness, appeal and cruelty, the combined text and imagery result in a visual diary or journal that may be viewed as individual pieces or in groups of works creating more of a narrative effect.

Create one for each work submitted and attach it to the back of work and bring with you.
